My name is Christian Cutter, Assistant Superintendent in Douglas County, and I am working with the district to develop a scholarship (voucher) program for our students.

I am in need of your feedback on a concern regarding the Douglas County School District scholarship program.

I have received mixed responses from private school heads regarding the mandatory use of an "opt out" waiver. This would require private schools who receive Douglas County students with scholarships to allow those students to remove themselves from faith-based classes and/or activities.

From your standpoint, is this provision a "deal-breaker" to any possible agreement that you and our district might have looking forward in the process?
